New York, May 8 .- Throughout to-day the stock market was nervously and irregularly strong. There was some trace in the early dealings of the doubtful feeling regarding the market that was more or less evident yesterday, but the period of hesitation was brief and prices soon resumed their upward march under the lead of the two old favorites, the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific

In a varying way, but with little diminishment, this strength was continued until the end of business, although the feature of the market in the afternoon was the advance in the Reading, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, Delaware and Hudson, and in general the stocks of the leading anthracite railroad companies.

more than one-third of the day's total volume of dealing, and the quotation of the stock closed at its highest point at an advance of 314 points. Delaware and Lackawanna stock rose at one time 4 points, but lost half its gain, the adrance in this security being notable, as it always is, when a buying movement starts on account of the exceedingly small floating supply of the stock in the

Explain Rise in Coal Stocks.

The rise in the coal stocks was accompanied with rumors of a supposed squeezing of the short interest in Readsqueezing of the hard coal hacknied stories of a segregation of coal lands. Under the rise of the hard coal shares, there appeared to be more or less distribution of other railroad stocks which have hitherto been the leaders in which have hitherto been the leaders in leaders Union Pacific particularly was not in very satisfactory proportion to the volume of transactions in them. Amalgamated Copper, American Smelting and Refining, United States Steel, and, as a rule, all the metal stocks were relatively heavy, either advancing very little or remaining unchanged from yesterday's prices. Taken altogether, however, the market was, even if of entirely professional and manipulative character. still such as to suggest that the advancing movement in prices had not yet cul-

The Safest Investments

Are those that do not fluctuate during disturbed conditions of the money or stock markets. First deed of trust notes (first mortgages), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "gilt-edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of individuals or corporations for their stability, and are exempt from taxation as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from $500 upward. Send for booklet, "Concerning Loans and Investments."
